2 BANDITS ROB GROCERY STORE
AT COLUMBIANA

Manager Ronald Fleischer of Salem, Victim of Daylight Holdup

STORE AT NORTH
LIMA IS ROBBED

Same Group Is Believed Responsible In Both Instances

Forcing the manager, Ronald Fleischer, of Salem, into a rear room, two bandits today held up and robbed the Atlantic & Pacific Tea company store, South Main st., Columbiana, and fled with $10 in money.

Jumping into an awaiting automobile, driven by a third man, the bandits drove to North Lima where they are also reported to have held up and robbed another A. & P. store of an undetermined amount of cash.

The North Lima holdup occurred at 11:35 a. m., 20 minutes after Fleischer was held up.

The men drove up to the store in Columbiana in a large, blue sedan.
Two walked into the place and suddenly flashed revolvers, ordering Fleischer to put his hands up.

Fleischer was marched into a back room by one of the bandits while the other emptied the cash drawer of the morning's receipts.

Ordering the manager to remain in the store, the two men ran into the street and jumped into the machine and headed towards Youngstown at a high rate of speed.

Fleischer, leaving the store by a rear door, took the license number of the automobile and immediately notified village authorities who then communicated with Youngstown police.

Fleischer, until about 10 days ago, was assistant manager at the Ellis worth Ave., A. & P. store here.

STOCK MARKET
OPENS STRONG

Traders In Optimistic Frame of Mind and Prices Go Up

BY JOHN L. COOLEY,

Associated Press Financial Writer.

NEW YORK, March 15.—Back from the banks, security markets received an enthusiastic welcome in Wall street today.

Stocks whirled $1 to $7 higher in a strong, active opening and clung tenaciously to their top prices as trading wore on, although volume slackened appreciably.

Bonds made a bid for prominence, but their advance was relatively subdued. Most of the leading commodity markets, notably the New York cotton exchange and the Chicago board of trade's grain pit, will not resume until tomorrow.

Sugar and silver futures here made fair gains and wheat at Winnipeg pointed upward.

Reopening of the New York stock exchange to unrestricted business for the first time since March 3 found traders in an optimistic mood. What proportion of the early buying orders came from shorts who were anxious to cover could not be ascertained, but presumably it was rather large.

Old-line favorites of the market, such as United States steel, American Telephone, American Can, Du Pont, General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Pennsylvania railroad, Atchafalpa railroad and American Can, opened $2 to $3 above the previous closing quotations.

Transactions of 1,000 to 6,000 shares were numerous.

Passage of the beer bill by the house afforded opportunity for a bullish display in the so-called wet stocks. Illinois, Illinois Class, fortified by news that it had already received a large order for bottles, bubbled up $7 to $41 for a share. Crown Cork & Seal gained $4.50 to a quotation of $20.50; National Distillers products rose $3.75 to $23.37 and U. S. Industrial Alco-hols' shares jumped to $18.75, up $3.25. Corn products refining was also strong, up $0.37 to $56.

Extension Granted
For Income Taxes

WASHINGTON, March 15.—

There's a joke, even though a mild one, in the treasury order giving until March 31, instead of midnight tonight for the filing of income tax returns.

The minor catch is that each of the 4,600,000 taxpayers must add 6 per cent interest for the 16 days if he sends in his check the last day of the month.

Treasury officials hoped that under the new billion dollar revenue bill income tax payments in March would amount to $300,000,000 or more against the $180,000,000 collected in February.

Honored by F. O. E.

COLUMBUS, O., March 15.—At a banquet in honor of his 73rd birthday anniversary, Col. Joseph H.
Dolling, grand treasurer of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, was presented a diamond-studded Eagle's pin by M. O. Burns of Hamilton.
Governor White was among those present.

Body Is Recovered

HAMILTON, O., March 15.—After the body of James McCabe, 66, of Cincinnati, had been removed from a stream here, Coroner Edward Cook expressed a belief he fell in after suffering a heart attack.

ELKTON HOMES
ARE MAROONED
BY CREEK FLOW

Dwellers Take to Second Floors As Beaver
Leaves Banks

SALEM STREETS,
SEWERS CLOGGED

Ohio River Lowlands Inundated; 40-Foot Stage
At E. Liverpool

Swirling, muddy water was lap-ping at the door steps of hundreds of homes and business places throughout Ohio today as rivers and creeks spread over their banks and covered low-lying territories.

The damage, in thousands of dollars, was being counted up in Columbiana county today as rain, falling almost continuously over a 60-hour period, finally abated but left behind flooded farm lands, highways, streets and homes.

Beaver Creek Overflows
More than 150 Elkton residents were reported marooned as flood waters from the Beaver creek, which advanced over its banks late last night, covered the community to depths of several inches to several feet.

Elkton residents, in many instances, were forced to remove household belongings to second floor rooms.

Mail deliveries into the village were shut off as water covered the Lisbon-Elkton road.

Workers here under the supervision of Service Director Clyde R.
Reich have labored almost continuously, removing debris from clogged drains and sewers and rehabilitating streets damaged seriously by flood waters.

Maple st., Liberty, West Fifth, West Seventh and other thoroughfares suffered during the rain.
Intersections along Madison ave. were transferred into miniature rivers when drains were clogged by debris. Basements of more than 100 homes were flooded.

Dirt from front lawns or yards of many Salem properties was washed out into streets.

Ohio River in Flood Stage The Ohio river, near East Liverpool and Wellsville, was expected to reach a flood stage of 38 to 40 feet today. Properties in the west end of East Liverpool were inundated while damage also resulted at Smiths Ferry, Pa., and Wellsville.

Work by the Montour railroad along Beaver creek was halted by slips and washouts.

An automobile, believed to be the property of an East Liverpool man, was partially submerged when it ran off the Salem-Lisbon rd., south of this city, and was ditched Tuesday night. The left side of the machine and its engine were buried in water which in places crept up over the highway.

MORE REPORTED
SAFE IN QUAKE

Fire Captain George Lewis Sends Note From Ocean Beach

Fire Captain George Lewis, vacating in Ocean Beach, Calif., during a three-month leave of absence from duties here, escaped without injury during the earthquake. He notified Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy today.
Lewis accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. Martha Whitcomb, is visiting his son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis, Jr., at Ocean Beach.

His message to Chief Malloy narrated that the quake's severity was not felt at Ocean Beach although several schools were felt and two nearby schoolhouses were burned to the ground.

Mrs. Minnie Moore of Salem has been notified of the safety of her son, William and wife of Los Angeles.

The quake forced Mr. and Mrs.
Moore from their home into the street, a letter reported. Falling chimneys, collapsing walls and other quake terrors endangered them throughout the night.

Atty K. L. Coburn has received word that his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Coburn, and his nephew, George Stanley and family, all of Whittier, Calif., have escaped without injury.

Relatives here of Mrs. Esther Boone Chadbourne and Mrs. Charles Bonsall, of Long Beach, Calif., both former Salem residents, have been advised that they were unharmed by the storm.

Closes Brick Plant

COLUMBUS, O., March 15.— Warden Preston E. Thomas of the Ohio penitentiary has suspended operations at the Roseville prison brick plant, removed 17 guards there and eight at the penitentiary and ordered every employe in the penitentiary to take a day off a month without pay.

His action is designed to save $23,300 during the last nine months of this year.

SALES TAX HIT
BY MERCHANTS

Northern Columbiana Retailers Plan Meeting Here Monday

Merchants of Salem and other northern Columbiana county towns will assemble at the Memorial building at 8 p. m. Monday to organize opposition to the retail sales tax proposed in bills now before the state legislature.

Arrangements for this were made today at a meeting of the tax committee of the Salem-Savannah board, of which R. S. McCulloch is chairman. Merchants in Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana and East Palestine will be asked to attend the meeting here Monday night.

Imposition of a two per cent sales tax cannot be passed on to the consumer and the result will be disastrous to all retailers, Salem merchants point out. It is important, the tax committee said today, that every Salem merchant, representing every line of merchandise understanding the full import of this proposal.

For that reason, the committee is urging all merchants to attend this meeting. The proposed tax will be discussed in detail and any questions will be answered. It is expected that the meeting will result in an organized effort to block passage of such legislation at Columbus.

50 Participate In Checker Tournament

Approximately 50 players participated in a checker tournament and exhibition staged under auspices of Allen Reynolds, post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the V. F. W.
hall Tuesday night.

R. Shrimplin of Alliance, playing blindfolded, competed against Mrs.
Lyda Jeffries, Egypt rd., with Mrs.
Jeffries winning three games. Lou Kuntzman of Sebring played 11 persons simultaneously, winning 10 of the matches.

He lost to V. S. Nichols and won over Louis Reed, Claire Jeffries, Mrs. Jeffries, Charles McChugue, Louis Reynolds, post No. 892, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the V. F. W.
hall Tuesday night.

In separate games Pete Stan-kovich won over Mrs. E. C. Willard and Schaffer defeated Rutter. Each match was three out of five games.

Plans were arranged to organize a Salem V. F. W. checker club with a meeting set for March 22. Mrs.
Jeffries will be instructor.

Claiborne Tells
Why He Wants Beer

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Re-body in the house doubts whether Representative Claiborne (D., Mo.) stood on the beer bill.

"As a drinking man I'm going to vote for the beer bill," he told the members in forceful tone before the bill was passed.

"I like a good drink of beer. Not only a good drink of beer of 3.2 per cent but a good drink of whiskey."

"I hope the time will come when I can walk into a saloon in my own country and stand up at the bar and buy a good drink."

State Continues

LIMA, O., March 15.—The state continued presentation of its case in the murder trial of Loren Truesdale today after additional witnesses told the jury Truesdale admitted he killed his brother Earl and Miss Thelma Woods.

Boyd Paxson, of Lima testified Truesdale revealed the double-killing to him and planned to leave Lima because he feared he was suspected. Joe Collier, Toledo newspaper reporter, said Truesdale made a confession shortly after his arrest.

County-Wide Unit
Planned To Fight
Rural Mortgages

Plans for a county-wide organization of rural residents, seeking a moratorium on mortgage foreclosures, were announced today by committees of a Salem-Perry township farm unit which Monday sponsored a farm gathering in common pleas courtroom, Lisbon.

Progress was reported by the farm unit which will hold a business meeting at the home of S. A. Alto-mare, southeast of Salem, next Monday night. Plans will be made at this session for another farm gathering which committeemen said will be held at the county courthouse.

Speakers at Monday's meeting were Joseph Swartz of Salem and John W. Marshall of Franklin Square. E. W. Ware, Salem township, presided as chairman.

COMMITTEE GETS
NEW BEER BILL

Leaders Confidently Predict Approval of Democrats' Revenue Measure

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Toward final passage swept today the Democratic beer-revenue bill with another step—Senate finance committee approval—confidently predicted by leaders.

That committee was summoned to meet by Chairman Harrison, Mississippi, Democrat, who made clear that he expected his party to stand by its president and pass very soon the bill endorsed by the house yesterday, 316 to 97.

The measure, which would legalize the sale and manufacture of fermented liquors such as beer, ale and porter containing 32 per cent alcohol by weight and expected to raise $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 a year in taxes, will be brought up Harrison said, as soon as the senate acts on the pending economy bill.

That would mean senate consideration possibly late today or tomorrow.

Roosevelt, Woodin
To See That Banks
Operate Correctly

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 15.—Two grim and determined government officials—Franklin D. Roosevelt and William H. Woodin—are preparing to see that the nation's banks operate hereafter as they are supposed to.

Besides striving to put closed banks on a working basis, they are driving at those they believe responsible for the banking difficulties. As Secretary Woodin remarked, standing on the white house steps:

"We must bring them to justice.
I could bite the head of a 10-penny nail, thinking of the persons who put their life savings, maybe $800 or $1,000, in institutions that were not properly run."

Certificates Sent
To Taxing Districts

LISBON, March 15.—County Auditor John H. Irwin is forwarding all taxing districts a certificate of approval of resolutions and municipal ordinances having to do with appropriations, as filed with the county budget commission.

All budgets have been approved by the commission, it has been announced.

LOS ANGELES, March 15.—The forty-third earthquake since the

'BUSINESS AS USUAL' IS RESUMED AS RESTRICTIONS ARE TAKEN OFF

Money Flows Freely Today Through Arteries of Trade
As More Banks Free Cash

More Than 460 Ohio Institutions Are Reopened; Federal Reserve and State Authorities to Issue More Licenses

(By Associated Press)

Money flowed freely through the arteries of trade in Ohio today as 462 of the state's approximately 725 banks offered their normal facilities to millions of depositors.

Under licenses granted by the federal and state governments, the banks, located in at least 200 cities and towns, made available literally billions of dollars that for two weeks have been "frozen" in their vaults.

The process of granting licenses kept both the state and Federal Reserve officials at work until the early hours of this morning. Their task was not complete when they called it quits for the night.

By tens and scores, they issued licenses to open for normal business today.

The fourth Federal Reserve bank at Cleveland granted 151 Ohio members permits while the state banking department ground out 255 licenses.

Affect Many Cities

The newly licensed reserve member banks are in 123 Ohio cities and towns while the newly opened state institutions are in about 200 centers. In many of these cities and towns, however, both types of banks operate, and the total of the two figures is probably far in excess of the actual number of centers affected.

In addition to the Ohio banks granted licenses through the fourth Federal Reserve bank 175 members in western Pennsylvania, eastern Kentucky and the "panhandle" of West Virginia received federal sanction to open today. Fifty-eight memberships earlier had been approved, making 384 of the 435 such banks in the fourth Federal Reserve district eligible for normal operation.

The list of sanctioned banks however, still is far from complete.

The federal government is continuing its study of the condition statements of more than 100 Ohio banks holding memberships in the Federal Reserve. Some, at least, of these are due to receive permits to lift the restrictions they imposed on their depositors the last two weeks.

Similarly, Ira J. Fulton, state superintendent of banks, is still studying the liquidity of state char-

BLAZE DAMAGES
BROADWAY HOME

Loss Estimated at $1,500 Results at Residence of Generoso Valente

Fire resulting when clothes were burned by a gas stove caused damage estimated at $1,500 to the frame residence of Generoso Valente, 426 South Broadway, at 9:50 p. m.
Tuesday.

The blaze was discovered by neighbors when flames starting in the dining room of the house were seen shooting through windows, spreading to the kitchen and other sections of the home.

No members of the family were home when the blaze broke out.
A stairway leading to the second floor was burned away, damage also resulting to the kitchen, dining room and a hallway. An adjacent dwelling was also slightly damaged by heat from flames.

Firemen, responding to the alarm during a heavy rainstorm, spread two lines of hose and also used chemicals to combat the blaze. It was extinguished in an hour, Fire Chief Vincent L. Malloy reported.

Alliance Pastor

Rev. J. A. Scott, of Alliance, pastor of the Union Ave. Methodist Episcopal church there, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Men's club of the Methodist church at 7:30 tonight at the church.

Rev. Scott, a native of Scotland, will use for his theme "Scotland and the Scots."

C. M. Brautigan, director of Salem high school band, and a group of High school students, will furnish

LISBON, March 15.—Upon the recommendation of Municipal Judge H. W. Brokaw of East Liverpool, the county Commissioners have of East Liverpool. He was committed to the county jail in default of a fine of $300 and costs. The balance of the fine and costs will be paid by Ollinger in monthly instalments.

MORE LAURELS

Salem High school athletic, debate and other teams and groups have long been among the foremost in this section of the state with many championships and achievements to their credit.

Representatives in another school activity came to the front a few days ago when the Salemasquers, dramatic organization, competing in an Ohio one-act play contest at Hiram, emerged with second honors. They presented the play, "Submerged", directed by Miss Mary Lanpher. Elyria captured first honors.

The cast included Robert Clunan, Troy Cope, Paul Smith, Clarence Hartsough, Kenneth Koozitz and Albert Allen.

In addition to the second place award given the cast, one of its members, Albert Allen, was adjudged winner of second honors among individual performers by Director McConner of the Cleveland Playhouse.

The achievement speaks well for the work of the students and the leadership of their instructor.

WANTED: A DRIVER

Back of the tragic death of Anton J. Cermak is a political tragedy of a political machine which has been left without any natural leader.
Mayor Cermak gave orders, not only to Cook county Democrats, but to the Democrats of Illinois. It will be greatly surprising if his death does not open an opportunity for a fight which will so exhaust Democratic strength that the deposed Republicans will be able to bid successfully for power once more.

Mayor Cermak was a hard-headed political genius, a master of organization, as any man would have to be to get control of any political machine as headstrong and powerful as the Democratic party of Illinois. While he lived, he was a virtual dictator—and, be it to his credit, a dictator with a good deal of valuable idealism. There is every reason to believe that he tried to serve the people through the political machine he controlled. Too many politicians use the people to serve the machine.

Unfortunately, he made no provision for a successor. Probably had he done so, there would have been a contest, but with the field wide open as it is now there may be a battle-royal. Immediately there is the necessity of selecting someone to serve as mayor until an election can be held. It has added to Chicago's confusion to find that its laws make no adequate provision for an interim mayor.

It is an interesting situation. It illustrates, among other things, that the people instinctively come to place all their faith in one man when that man shows himself possessed of outstanding qualities of leadership. In the last few days the people have concentrated their hopes for the present and future on President Roosevelt. At other times, they have chosen other men as symbols of devotion. Those men, when they have died or been forced out of their positions, have left enormous places to be filled. But, after a time, they always seem to get filled—and usually with some improvement.

Chicago, with preparations made for a world's fair, only can hope that the process will run true to form this time, with a maximum of efficiency and a minimum of that political friction for which Chicago politics are noted. Its grief over Mayor Cermak's death is inspired by more than respect for the man it lost. It has been deprived of the satisfaction of a political machine under full control.

The world is not so much interested in what Japan hopes to get out of China as when it gets out—Philadelphia Inquirer.

PERMANENT MEASURES

President Roosevelt and leading members of his administrative group undoubtedly realize the risk they have taken by making a spectacular start in their new job. Like runners who have got away from their marks too rapidly, they are in danger of exhausting themselves unless they can reduce their pace with safety.

It is partially for this reason that there is special interest in the permanent measures of bank reform that will follow the emergency action of the last few days. To a considerable extent, that action has been made acceptable by the belief that it would be followed by measures of reform which would make repetition of the banking fiasco impossible.

The people are not anxious to guess at the details of the permanent banking reform legislation that has been promised. They still have confidence in the President and his advisers. Their belief in the leadership of a man who dared to cry out against the once powerful interests which made a practice of speculating with other people's money is firm.

They know that, in Senator Glass and, to an increasing extent, Senator Bulkeley, Mr. Roosevelt has two sources of sound counsel. They like the administration's approach, because it reminds them of a new broom that is sweeping clean. So alive is their faith in improvement that it almost reconciles them to the dead despair of their individual losses, in those cases where bank collapses have caused losses.

One of the more interesting possibilities of the future is an extension of the Canadian policy of branch banking as a means of guaranteeing stability. This was an important feature of the Glass banking bill in the last session of congress. It has found favor in the thoughts and words of many of the most authoritative observers and students of banking. Virtually outlawed prior to the banking system's collapse, it has come into a sudden and significant favor. Perhaps events have proved the need of a larger number of adequately financed institutions which cannot be upset at the slightest disturbance of business.

Branch banking is only one proposal for reform. With many others, it is the sign of an optimism which says that banking reform almost could make a fair bargain out of the years of depression conditions expensively purchased with folly.
The Roosevelt administration has a great program of work cut out from it.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural acts.

If you have a "dark brown mouth," —bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them 15c, 50c, etc.

"THE LOVE TRAP"

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

COPYRIGHT BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Pretty Mary Kennedy breaks her engagement to the elderly but wealthy sports promoter, Buck Landers when she falls in love with his young ward, Steve Moore. Landers kidnaps Steve and threatens to frame him unless Mary marries him. Mary flirts with Landers' henchman, Bat, to gain his confidence. She learns of Steve's whereabouts and goes there alone.

In a dimly lit room, Mary is confronted by two thugs who deny all knowledge of Steve. They hold her and phone Landers.

Landers arrives and orders his men out. When Landers refuses to leave, Mary shoots him, and but misses. He flees. Mary releases Steve.

Steve confesses to Mary that he is engaged, but he loves her. Mary has misgivings when Steve plans a visit to Eileen Calvert, his fiancée, to explain the situation.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FIVE

Mary staying at her sister's place in Brooklyn after Steve had gone, lived in a state of faith. Steve would come back to her. Eileen Calvert, with her wealth and beauty—Mary assumed the other girl possessed both—would have no power to weaken Steve's love. She tried to hold these thoughts fast in her mind. If she continued to think them then they would be true, but her confidence was not founded upon her own charms; her whole faith centered around the love Steve bore her. She could close her eyes and see him—close her eyes and still feel the magic of his kisses.

She told her sister and father nothing of Steve. Merely, she said she had quit her job over in New York and would be with them for a while until she found another. Without much trouble she could obtain some sort of work in Brooklyn, and so it developed. An employment agency found her a place in the office of a big insurance company. This, though, was a mechanical aspect of life that scarcely held her attention; she could do satisfactory work by instinct alone, even while her upper mind was filled with dreams of Steve. She wrote him long encouraging letters, and when his first one to her arrived, she touched the paper with a kiss before reading it.

"What can I tell you, my lovely one, that I've not said to you before?" he wrote. "When I think of your goodness to me, and your bravery, my heart simply melts. All the way up on the train, I kept thinking how fine you were, and what a nerve I have to assume to take care of you through life, when you certainly deserve a million things that I am not able to give you. You see, Mary, I simply want the best of everything for you now and always. Do you mind waiting till I can buy you limousines and yachts? If I have enough brain in my head to earn such things, they will all be at your disposal. I'll park them all in front of you like children's toys. But all that luxury, I'm afraid is a long way off. I haven't had a chance to talk to Bill yet about my business future. Nor have I had a suitable opportunity to break the news to Eileen that I'm in love with you. As a matter of fact, I've scarcely seen her alone since I've been here. We played tennis this morning, and went horseback riding this afternoon.

Tonight I sneaked off to my room to pen you this hasty note. Please don't worry about anything, Mary—and I'm not going to worry either. I know everything is going to be perfectly fine for us. I don't even worry about Buck Landers—because I know he has shot his bolt and is through. All the same I want you to keep out of his vicinity and stay exclusively in Brooklyn. If it isn't too much of a hardship. A million kisses, darling, and good night. I'll write tomorrow and I'll be waiting with a high fever for the first letter from my beloved girl. STEVE."

That night she wrote him from the fullness of her heart: "Steve, this is to tell you that I'm living in love. I actually am. It is food and drink to me, and when I breathe my lungs are full of it. Does that sound foolish? I would like to write in letters of fire in front of you, so you could see it forever and never forget it. I LOVE YOU. Just close your eyes and see if you can imagine those three words in front of you like a big electric sign in gold letters.

"Do you really love me, Steve? I want you to tell me that you do—I couldn't possibly get tired of hearing it over and over.

"I'm surprised to find that I can endure your absence without too much unhappiness because I think so much about you that it seems you are almost at my elbow every minute. Sometimes when I'm all alone, I am almost happy that you have gone away long enough for me to have time to realize how beautiful it all is. When you are with me, I'm always so tingling and excited that I can't really appreciate anything.

"I could write you a lot of things about what I'm thinking and the plans I'm making—but what's the use? The only important fact is that I love you so much more than I can express. You will find the right way to handle your affairs with the Calverts, darling, and you must do it in your own way. And your way, Steve, will always suit me whatever you do. Just so that I know you will go on loving me, I don't care much what else happens. Do you realize, my loved one, how completely a girl gives herself to a man when she truly loves him? I mean that you own all of me—every bit there is—and I want you to know that I haven't a wish or thought apart from your desires.

"Am I too bold in telling you all this Steve? I hope you won't think so. I am not ashamed of this perfectly gorgeous love that has come to me, and why should I be ashamed to admit it frankly? You see, I am trying with all my might to make you understand how deep it is. I could write a hundred pages like this without changing the subject. While you are gone, I will think of you by day and dream of you by night. But hurry back as soon as you can, darling. I am waiting in a wonderful trance! MARY."

She went to a corner letter box and posted it. Tomorrow it would be in his hands, and he would be reading it! Next morning she was all eagerness to read the letter she would find waiting from him. But he had not written; at least, no letter had arrived.

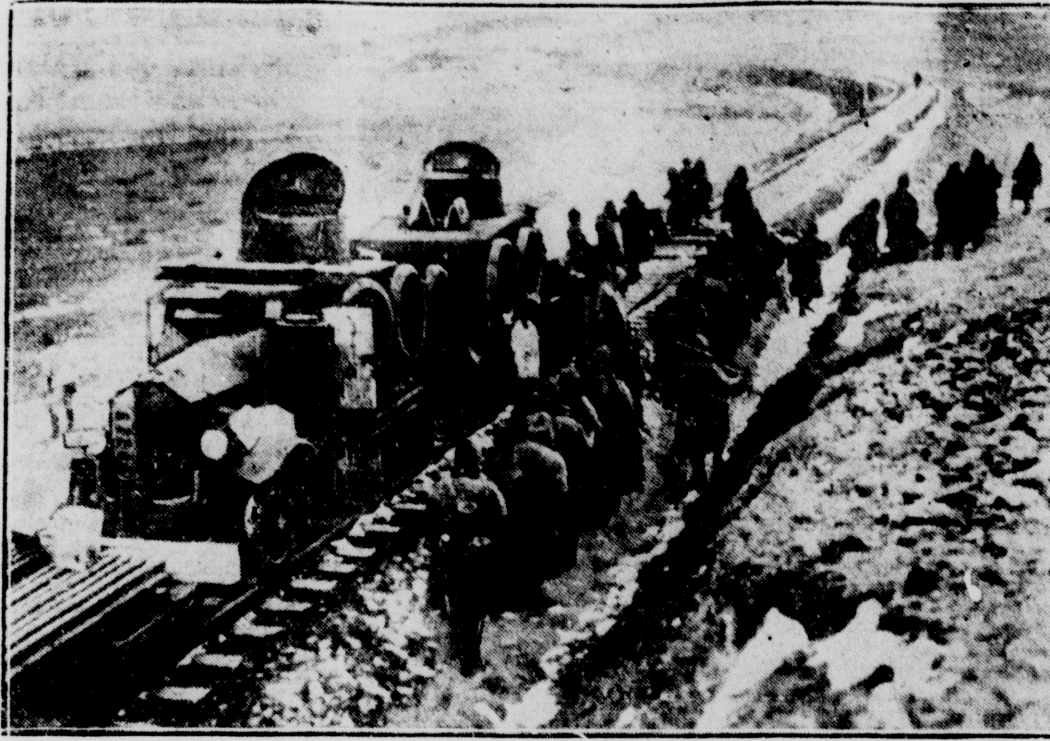

Throughout the day at the office she thought of him, with her mind shifting, occasionally to Eileen Calvert. Last night—or was it two nights ago?—he probably had told Eileen that he could never marry her. It would be difficult for Steve with his kindly nature to utter the fatal words.

Mary actually felt a keen sorrow for Eileen. It was no use being jealous of a girl who was suffering such a tragic disappointment. Besides, she was rich and charming and, really, she wouldn't have any trouble finding another suitor. Of course it was impossible that Eileen could love as deeply as Mary! No one on earth had ever loved like this before. Why, actually and literally, she would walk into fire for Steve! But Eileen would take it gracefully; the beautiful dark eyes would dim for a moment with despair, and then she would realize that Steve had never really belonged to her at all. Both of them would understand that they had not actually loved—it had merely been a boy-and-girl affair. Mary hoped that Steve would be very gentle and dignified—it would be much easier if he kept that attitude. She imagined she could trust him not to get sentimental and give Eileen a farewell kiss, or anything like that. Not that it really mattered—but it would be better all around if he didn't.

She arrived home from the office and still there was no letter. That night the family went to a movie, but she remained home in the hopes of a special delivery; but none came. Before the others came back, however, she had a telegram from the Calkills.

In the liquidation of a bank, the superintendent of banks is given powers to compel persons or corporations owing the bank as well as stockholders to immediately file financial statements and to answer questions concerning their assets.

The measure also provides that liquidation funds deposited in another bank are preferred claims in case the depository bank also should have to be liquidated.

MONEY FLOWING AS BANKS OPEN

More Than 460 Ohio Institutions Resume Normal Business

Reserve memberships will ask their depositors to approve a plan for operation under the direction of a federal-appointed "conservator."

No small number thus will be enabled in time to turn frozen assets into cash and to pay their depositors in full.

Others, holding state charters, will operate under a similar program outlined by the state banking department, and likewise will be able eventually to offer their customers unrestricted banking facilities.

Meanwhile, the board of directors of numerous somewhat unliquid banks are completing plans looking toward reorganization. Some intend to apply for national banking charters, and the tremendous number of applications for membership received by the Federal Reserve bank at Cleveland indicates a host of state chartered banks will seek enrollment in that federal-sponsored district bank.

As the new bank openings broke the ties that had bound up much of Ohio's financial structure, business men and the public alike look an optimistic outlook on the future. Bankers likewise were cheered by huge deposits that in some cases far exceeded withdrawals and everywhere were surprisingly large.

Department stores reported a decided increase in sales and a "different feeling in the air." They demonstrated their confidence the public would hurry to make delayed purchases by increasing their space in newspapers noticeably.

One Columbus store found the crowds rushing to its counters so large it was forced to employ an extra force of clerks.

The Cincinnati stores were filled with persons wearing red, white and blue buttons boldly proclaiming "I have confidence in my bank."

An evidence of the hopefulness that permeated the industrial life of the state was noted at Akron where the large tire and rubber companies prepared to put their workers on a three-day-a-week basis on contrast to the two-day or complete shutdown basis of last week.

And an indication of the ease with which the reopened banks handled their problems was given at Newark, where the Baltimore & Ohio railroad sent a paycar with funds to cash the railroad workers checks only to find the local banks had taken over the task so readily the car was not needed.

LEGISLATURE HIGHLIGHTS

(By Associated Press)
Thumbnail sketch of activities in the legislature.

Banking and prohibition occupied the legislature today.

From the administration, the law makers received two emergency measures which would permit immediate reorganization and liquidation of state banks unable to resume business under present regulations.

Final legislative action on the Mosier bill to set up machinery for a convention to consider ratification of the federal prohibition repeal amendment appeared certain today with the measure before the house. It was passed by the senate last week.

Gov. White has indicated he approves the Mosier plan under which the convention delegates would be elected at large.

The best bill to give common pleas courts discretionary powers in the handling of mortgage foreclosures was passed by the house and sent to the senate. The latter branch was expected to vote today on the Annet bill to permit installment payment of delinquent taxes.

The house rejected a bill which would allow political subdivisions to accept special assessment bonds as payment for certain taxes.

Passage of a bill to transfer the motor vehicles bureau from the secretary of state's jurisdiction to the highway department was recommended by the senate highways committee, which also approved a measure to set up a road patrol of 60 men.

COLUMBIANA

The Columbian Rotary club held one of its most interesting meetings Monday evening at the Park hotel when they observed their tenth anniversary with members of the Salem Rotary club as guests. About 55 were present.

The speaker was Clarence S. Collins, Cleveland manufacturer, who was governor of this Rotary district nine years ago and has been an active Rotarian for 20 years. Mr. Collins gave his hearers a real Rotary talk, developing in his pleasing way the six objects of Rotary. He defined Rotary as a beautiful adventure in friendship and ended by some remarks on technocracy, of which he has made a special study.

Isaiah Mowen Chairman

He was introduced by Homer Lehman who served under him as president of the local organization. Isaiah Mowen presided at the program as chairman of the committee who arranged the celebration. Other past presidents, H. H. Lehman, D. H. Hepburn, Wick Fry, Henry Staley, H. W. Hammond and J. A. Crawford were also on the committee.

President Leo Holloway welcomed the Salem Rotarians. Mr. Mowen, following his opening remarks, called the roll of charter members, the following being present: Lehman, Staley, Fry, Hammond, Mowen, Patchen, H. H. Hewitt, and Prof. H. A. Tuttle of Youngstown, the latter two not now being members. The roll of presidents was then called, all responding with remarks or reminiscences, including Prof. Tuttle, the first president of the club, whose talk related principally to the progress made during the last ten years in education and home life. Judge Hammond eulogized the late Dr. P. H. Felger, also a past president, for whom a vacant chair had been left at the presidents table.

At the time the Columbian club was organized there were 1404 clubs in Rotary International in 25 countries of the world. Now there are 3500 clubs in 71 countries, according to Mr. Mowen's report.

R. W. Hawley of Salem, who had assisted in the organization of the Columbian club, recalled the history of the early meetings and stressing the pleasure and importance of Rotary fellowship. J. A. Campbell, New Middletown, and Richard Lehman were present as the guests of H. H. Lehman.

BANKS REOPEN

BEER BILL PASSES

UNCLE SAM'S EXCUSE

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1933, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ONE THOUSAND more banks and the stock exchange are open.

The House passed the beer bill in accordance with President Roosevelt's brief urgent message without delay and by a vote of 216 to 97.

Speaker Rainey asking to be recorded as voting "aye."

The Senate will pass the bill before the end of this week and you may be drinking legal beer by the first of April. Each state will decide for itself whether beer may be sold within its border, and how, if at all, the beer may be sold.

UNCLE SAM may say with Falstaff's "Prince Hal," "doth it not show vileness in me to desire small beer?"

But Uncle Sam has an excuse. He wants beer to balance his budget. What our "best financial minds" have not been able to do, the humble but industrious beer drinker is expected to accomplish.

It will be very small beer only 3.2 per cent alcohol. But, "small taxes, though multiply received" by the thirsty, tired of bootleggers and "home brew" trash.

THE FUTILE league of nations, snubbed by Japan in connection with the Chinese matter, still "tusses around" and you learn to your surprise probably, that "the United States will sit in" and discuss far eastern matters with the league.

It is stipulated that this country will "not allow the league to bind the United States as regards Chinese matters." But, why should the United States meddle in Asia at all? Have we not enough to attend here? We certainly don't intend to spend men or money in the far east, or meddle with Japan's proceedings there. Why should we "sit in"?

IF INCOME tax puzzles you, read the "1933 Cumulative Supplement to Federal Income Taxation," just published in New York. It is written by Joseph J. Klein, who is a doctor of philosophy, professor of taxation in the College of the City of New York, and more important, the best informed man in the country on income tax. All that you want to know about taxation, and much more, you will find in Dr. Klein's book.

Common-sense Americans, in and out of government, will be interested in Dr. Klein's statement that increasing taxation does not necessarily mean greater revenue. On the contrary, it demonstrates the soundness of "the law of diminishing returns."

DR. KLEIN points out that American industrial enterprises and payrolls have been based on a willingness to "take risks." When the government arranges to take for itself 55 per cent of anything that an enterprising man may earn, the inclination to "take risks" diminishes.

When President Roosevelt has finished with other matters now pressing on him, he will, doubtless, look into the advisability of taking more than half of what a man earns, if he earns anything, at a time when enterprise and willingness to "take a risk" are essential to recovery.

EUROPE is not thinking much about us, however our banks, beer, dollars or how we feel. Just at present Europe has a real war scare, which approaches hysteria in England.

Every member of the British cabinet is "holding himself ready for emergency meetings at any hour."

David Lloyd George wants a world conference of all Christian churches, to prevent another war before it is too late.

Lloyd George ables man in England, says seriously: "All nations are ordered toward the battlefield with the dove of peace embroidered on their banners." He can except this American nation. In Asia, in Europe, in Africa's thorny jungles, on India's coral sands, or down underneath in Australia, all that choose may go to war. This nation will watch them sympathetically, and our churches, undoubtedly, will pray for them, but all contributions will end there. And this nation will not buy their bonds.

Once is enough.

Pirates Loom As Strong Team In National League Flag Race

STRONG HURLING STAFF, OUTFIELD HELP PROSPECTS

Gibson Refuses to Offer Prediction but Admits He's "Pleased"

HOPE FOR RECOVERY OF MOUND VETERAN

Kremer, Swetonic Needed To Insure Success to Pittsburghers

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

PASO ROBLES, Cal., Mar. 15.—Pittsburgh's Pirates, "surprise" team of the National league last year, will open the 1933 season generally regarded as the squad to beat for the pennant.

Three young players came through last year to give Manager George Gibson a championship contending team for which only an ordinary showing had been predicted.

Lindstrom In Outfield

This season the 1932 runner-up will offer added strength in the outfield in the person of Freddie Lindstrom, acquired from the Giants, while the youngsters of a year ago—Floyd Vaughn, shortstop; Tony Piet, second baseman; and Earl Grace, catcher, have become established.

Gibson sidesteps a prediction but admits he is far more pleased with the present outlook than he was in the spring of 1932.

His only concern is pitching with two charter members of other seasons occupying comeback roles. Ray Kremer, veteran of nine years campaigning, was of little value to the club last year, after an attack of neuritis, early in the season. He won four games. He had been a consistent 15-game or more winner in the past.

Steve Swetonic, also an experienced right hander, injured his arm in mid-season and was on the shelf for a month. He won 11 games.

Gambles On Recruits

If Kremer and Swetonic return to form Gibson believes his worries will be over. If not he will gamble on the abilities of two recruits—Hal Smith, right hander, purchased from Kansas City, and Ralph Birkofer, southpaw, who did some fancy tossing for both Kansas City and Tulsa last season.

Smith won 17 games and lost eight. Birkofer was credited with 17 victories and 11 defeats.

Waite Hoyt, former world's series pitching star of the Yankees, is trying to make a comeback. Gibson hopes he will.

The rest of the Pirates' mound corps includes Larry French, leading pitcher on the club last season, Leon Chagnon, Heinie Meine, Bill Harris and Bill Swift. Charles Wood, left hander (armed out to Tulsa last year, is recuperating from an appendicitis operation and his status is uncertain.

Two Waners Macked

Manager Gibson feels his outfield will do until a better one comes along. The Waner brothers, Lloyd and Paul, will flank Lindstrom in center. Lloyd patrolling the left side. They make up a strong fly chasing combination, and each is an established 300 hitter.

The infield leaves nothing to be desired with Gus Suhr at first, Piet at second, Vaughn at short and Pie Traynor at third.

Tommy Thevenow is the chief infield reservist with Adam Comarowsky and "Woody" Jensen ready for call as utility outfielders.

Pittsburgh Pilot

He won't make any prediction for the 1933 National league campaign, but Manager George Gibson of the Pittsburgh Pirates admits he's well pleased with the team's prospects and looks forward to a successful season in which the Buccaners will rank among the leading contenders for the title.

DUNN TO BACK BASEBALL TEAM

Organization of Strong Nine Is Planned At Dunn Eden Park

Plans for the organization of a strong semi-pro baseball team, making its home field Dunn Eden lake park, north of Salem, were announced today by George W. Dunn, owner and operator of the park.

The team will be managed by Harry Schaefer, of Alliance, former star second baseman with the Sun-Set Park aggregation.

Jimmie Smith, former Beaver Falls, House of David and Detroit Clowns star, will be a member of the squad, Dunn reported, while other players which he hopes to sign include Roy and Kenneth Grimes, of Minerva, Arthur Barton of Salem, Bill Huffman of Beaver Falls and John Held of Alliance.

Huffman, with Wichita, Kan., in the Western league last season, is slated to be a member of the Dunnmen's hurling staff.

Other Salem diamond stars, including Mike Sartick, last year with Lake Placidia; Letty Bradt and Pete Sanders will be given tryouts with the team.

Feeding the 'Quake Homeless

This scene is typical of many in the area of Southern California which was devastated by the earthquake. A line of homeless refugees is shown at one of the relief stations in a public park at Long Beach, Cal. Many of those seeking food are scantily clad in a strange assortment of raiment they were able to salvage from the ruins of their homes.

THEATER Attractions

Nancy Carroll

TEN well known authors combined their talents in writing the story, "The Woman Accused" which will be the feature attraction Thursday at the State theater.

Each Wrote a Chapter Rupert Hughes, Vicki Baum, Zane Grey, Vina Delmar, Irvin S. Cobb, Gertrude Atherton, J. P. McEvoy, Ursula Parrott, Polan Banks, and Sophie Kerr are the authors. Each wrote a chapter. Running in serial form in one of the popular magazines it won acclaim and now as a picture with Nancy Carroll and Cary Grant in leading roles should prove an interesting film.

It centers about Miss Carroll, who on the eve of her marriage with Grant is confronted by a former lover played by Louis Calhern who demands she return to him. When she refuses, telling him she is leaving on a cruise on the morrow to be married to the captain of the boat, Calhern grabs a phone intending to call a gangster friend to have Grant "bumped off". Before he can give the order, however, Miss Carroll, who plays the role of Glenda, is hit over the head with a bronze statue.

Is Followed To Boat
Horried, she finds he is dead. She flies to the boat, meeting Grant on the way, only to find she has been followed by Benson, John Halliday, a friend of the man she has killed.

The remaining incidents are most exciting ones, including a game on the boat in which Halliday plays the lawyer and calls Miss Carroll to the stand. He flashes the dress in front of her that she wore the night Calhern was killed. The other passengers thinking the "acting" excellent little surmise how real it all is.

Arless Film Today
GEORGE ARLESS, who returns to the screen after quite a lengthy absence in "The King's Vacation."

His Death Probed

A recent photo of Ralph "Buddy" Conrad, Jr., 14, of Lynn, Mass., whose death at the Lynn Isolation Hospital is the subject of an investigation. It is charged that the boy died as the result of two whippings administered by a nurse at the institution. The death certificate states that Ralph died of Bright's disease with the whippings given as a secondary cause.

now playing at the State, has a role that is perfectly suited to him and a story that is a most interesting one.

The screen play is a rare combination of humor, dramatic sequences and spectacular scenes, tinged with a delightful romance. In the fine supporting cast there are such names as Dick Powell, the lad from Pittsburgh who was seen in "Blessed Event," Patricia Ellis, a newcomer, Mrs. George Arless, Marjorie Gatenon, Dudley Digges, O. P. Heggie and Vernon Steele. It has always been a hard task to find stories for Mr. Arless, as the great star in his later years prefers something with a touch of light comedy to offset the dramatic situations. He insists on highly intelligent pictures, and yet pictures that bring a glow of happiness to the spectator. The present story is quite modern and similar in type to "The Millionaire."

What Roosevelt Has Achieved

(The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 15.—In his 10 days as President, Franklin D. Roosevelt has achieved this record:

March 5—Proclaimed a national bank holiday, assuming war power, and called congress into session March 9.

March 9—Asked congress for emergency bank legislation. His message was read at noon, the bill was passed by both branches and signed into law 10 hours later.

March 10—Asked congress for power to cut half a billion off federal expenditures.

March 11—The house passed his economy bill unchanged.

March 13—The senate began to consider the measure. The President asked congress for immediate legalization of beer.

March 14—The house passed the requested beer bill. The senate pushed the economy measure toward passage.

Looked for next is a farm relief proposal to get aid to the farmer in time for this year's crops. Held in abeyance also is his plan for a $500,000,000 bond issue for employment.

HOQUIAM, Wash.—Wedding gowns of wood. A Grays Harbor couple, Alice Geissler and Orville Rayl, were bride and groom in a mock wedding here at the Harbor plywood plant before a newsreel camera. Miss Geissler and her bridesmaid wore plywood gowns, while Rayl and his best man used wooden cylinders for suits.

TO-DAY'S RADIO PROGRAMS

Replies to a questionnaire on children's radio programs as received from 90 mothers of 71 boys and 63 girls led the Child Study Association of America to advise that "there appears much fair-minded criticism" as well as "a desire to utilize radio for the enrichment of home living."

Completing his "run" as comedian with Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians tonight, J. P. Medbury, for the time being will confine his WABC-CBS appearances to the Columbia Review. He will continue to write the funny lines for the Wednesday night program, however.
